Kendrick School - Weekly Update Friday 11th March 2022

LETTER FROM MS KATTIRTZI, HEADTEACHER

We started the week celebrating International Women's Day (IWD), another annual event that means a lot to us at Kendrick. Championing the rights of women everywhere is still a cause we need to fight for and raising awareness of it is something we always do. Pausing on this day every year and thinking about the position of women in society is an imperative. The theme this year 'Break the Bias' may not be something that resonates so much at Kendrick but bias against women certainly exists outside our walls which we must continue to address. This year four students in Year 9, Koyenum, Joanna, Elise and Jyia and Year 12 students, have led the way in organising presentations, posters, and activities to mark the day. Daisy and Aneesa in Year 12, who are also the founding members of Kendrick's National Young Women's Society, prepared a Powerpoint presentation which was distributed to all the students to be watched and discussed at registration time on Monday and Tuesday. Our report on this year's IWB can be found HERE

On Tuesday we had our annual Dance Enterprise Day. All students in Years 7-11 were off timetable and worked in their form groups planning and choreographing a dance based on a theme which they then had to perform to their peers in an interform competition. If selected, the winning forms will be able to perform their dance at the Evening of Dance next week, Tuesday 15th March, a live event for parents. As always this is such a fun day for everyone; an opportunity to be creative, work in teams and be active.

I have often mentioned the valuable community work that our Kendrick Student Leaders (KSL) do both in and outside of school and the contribution they make to the school's community spirit. The Community Committee recently visited the Reading charity they chose to support this year, New Beginnings to find out more about how the charity works and how we can continue to support them. In a report of their visit HERE you can read about the conversations they had with the organisers about the issue of Homelessness in Reading and the challenges faced by homeless people who also often struggle with mental health issues and drug abuse. The Student Welfare Committee of KSL have also been active, and they have prepared an assembly to be shown to all students on one of our Kendrick values, Tolerance, a most pertinent issue in our current times.

Finally, yesterday we welcomed a visitor to Kendrick, Mrs Angela Strach, daughter of a Holocaust Survivor and a former Head of Drama at the school. Mrs Strach gave a most moving and inspiring presentation to the 6th Form about the life of her father, Eric Strach who was born in Czechoslovakia in 1914 and who with his family suffered persecution by the Nazis before and during the Second World War. By chance Eric was in France in 1938 and did not return to his homeland, but his family, his sister and her husband and children and his mother and father, remained there and were eventually taken to Auschwitz where they were gassed. The situation that Mrs Strach talked to us about in Eastern Europe in the 1930s and 1940s regarding her father and his family and the invasion of their country does not sound dissimilar to the news we are hearing of the atrocities being committed in Ukraine today: the bombing of civilian dwellings, hospitals and homes and the displacement of people. A link to the report written by our Holocaust Ambassadors, Janhavi, Eshal, Sanya and Izzy, about Mrs Strach's visit and presentation is HERE.

I will end this week again by sharing links to the charities supporting the victims of the war in Ukraine. https://www.unicef.org.uk/donate/donate-now-to-protect-children-in- ukraine/ https://www.dec.org.uk/appeal/ukraine-humanitarian-appeal

Supporting these charities and others is how we can convey small acts of kindness to the people of Ukraine.

Ms Christine Kattirtzi, Headteacher
