GOOD NEWS

Written by Kimberly Wu

WW2 Veteran raises 27 million pounds for NHS

Captain Tom Moore walks 100 laps around his house

Rainbows springing up everywhere in the country

Artwork displaying rainbows are being put up in windows with kind messages on them. Helping people through these hard times, children get their hands messy as they bring out their artistic side.

Schools are encouraging their students to put up rainbows up on the windows to 'spread hope'.

Read more on page 9...

Captain Tom Moore was a veteran during the WWII. Recently, he began walking around his house, wanting to walk 100 laps around his house before his 100th birthday. He wanted to raise £1,000 for the Front line workers battling Covid-19.

Since then, he has raised a staggering £27 million. Although he has finished walking the 100 laps, he is determined to carry on. The money raised is going to NHS Charities Together.

Captain's Tom Moore's single, with Michael Ball and NHS health carers, has reached No 1 in the UK Singles Chart. Read more on the next page...

Clap For Our Carers

Clapping for Our Carers is a campaign that involves the whole nation thanking the NHS frontline workers working to battle the virus.

It has become routine for us to applaud the NHS staff on Thursday at eight o'clock in the evening to show our gratitude.

Read more about Clap For Our Carers on page 6...

Social distancing broken

After 13 years of trying to get two pandas to mate, two giant pandas, LeLe and YingYing, have finally mated in the quiet times of the pandemic. The mating of the two pandas is crucial for the preservation of their vulnerable species. Read more on page 4...