Kendrick Library

Bookish Banter Week 17

Welcome to the final edition of the library newsletter!

At the start of this academic year could any of us have predicted that the World would end up in lockdown due to a global pandemic? That would have seemed more like the storyline from a good science fiction novel than reality! Alas, the week of 16 March 2020 saw us all sent home from school at various points, not knowing what lie ahead for the coming weeks and months. The following Friday your librarians put together a simple newsletter with a few books suggestions, puzzles and ideas....17 weeks later we are reading our last one!

It has been an absolute pleasure to keep in touch with so many of the Kendrick students and staff through the Corona-Library News. Your enthusiasm and participation has been astounding, so we thank you from the bottom of our hearts for making the past 17 weeks both bearable and pleasurable.

goodbye..?
oh no,please. Can't we go back to page one and do it all over again?

Book of the Week

The Hitchhiker's Guide to the Galaxy by Douglas Adams

Seconds before the Earth is demolished to make way for a galactic freeway, Arthur Dent is plucked off the planet by his friend Ford Prefect, a researcher for the revised edition of The Hitchhiker's Guide to the Galaxy who, for the last fifteen years, has been posing as an out-of-work actor.

Together this dynamic pair begin a journey through space aided by quotes from The Hitchhiker's Guide ("A towel is about the most massively useful thing an interstellar hitchhiker can have") and a galaxy-full of fellow travellers: Zaphod Beeblebrox--the two-headed, three-armed ex-hippie and totally out-to-lunch president of the galaxy; Trillian, Zaphod's girlfriend (formally Tricia McMillan), whom Arthur tried to pick up at a cocktail party once upon a time zone; Marvin, a paranoid, brilliant, and chronically depressed robot; Veet Voojagig, a former graduate student who is obsessed with the disappearance of all the ballpoint pens he bought over the years.

Where are these pens? Why are we born? Why do we die? Why do we spend so much time between wearing digital watches? For all the answers stick your thumb to the stars. And don't forget to bring a towel!

Sadly for our Kendrick community, we are saying farewell six teachers this July and wishing them all the best for their next endeavors...

Mr. Hiner is leaving Kendrick School after ten years' service to retire from teaching. Due to the current situation, his immediate plans have been put on 'hold' for now. However, he does intend to carry on making things and specifically to try and get back to making more art.

Good luck Mr. Hiner 😊

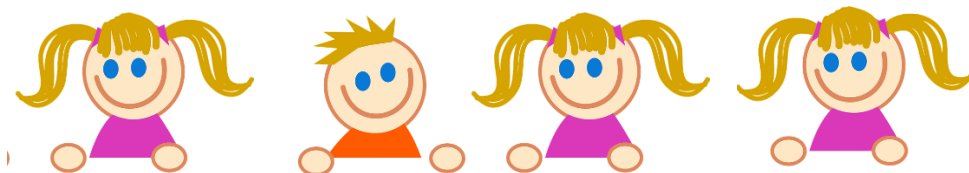

So long...

Mrs. Haldane

Mrs. Haldane has worked at Kendrick for the past three years but has decided that now is the right time to concentrate on her own four children at home – three of which are girls! We hope that you enjoy every minute of it!

Have fun Mrs. Haldane! ☺

Farewell...

Ms. Stacey

We say farewell to Ms. Stacey after 11 years at Kendrick School. She is leaving us at Kendrick to return to being a student herself! For the next three years Ms. Stacey will be studying for a Doctorate in Clinical Psychology. She has already started her preparation for the course beginning in September and is really enjoying immersing herself in some of the science involved. This is sparking an excitement for what she is going to learn in the coming years! We wish you the best of luck Ms. Stacey! 😊

Auf Wiedersehen...

Frau Alderson

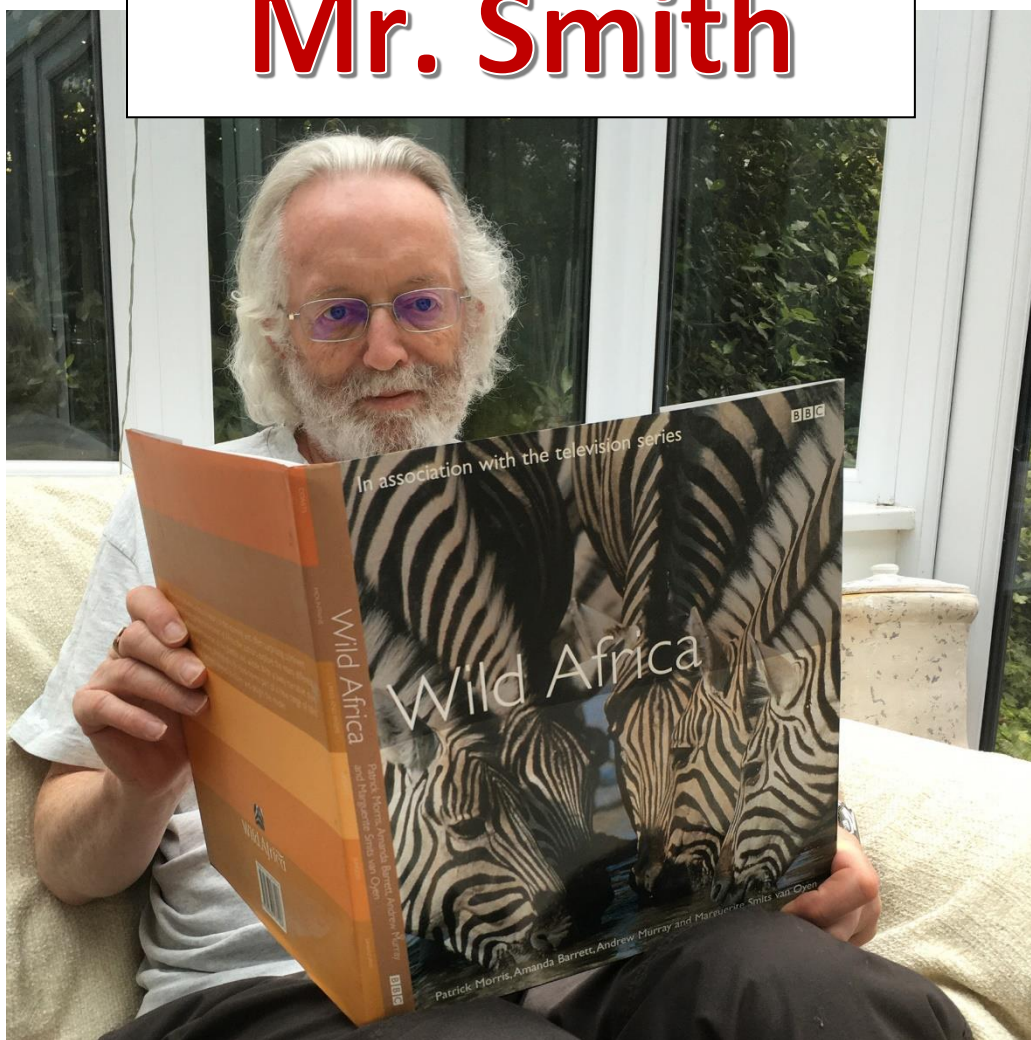

Frau. Alderson is quite literally moving on to pastures new as she leaves us this July after ten years of teaching at Kendrick. We will be sad to say goodbye but we know that she will be doing something she loves....more of the activities shown in this photograph!

Good luck with your big move and send all of the animals our love! ☺

Adieu...

Mr. Smith

Mr. Smith is leaving Kendrick to return to retirement. He is hoping to spend more time with his cameras. He is a wildlife photographer and makes health education films in his spare time. Mr. Smith hopes to be spending a lot more time in Africa once the pandemic is over, photographing the magnificent animals there. He is also a trustee of a small charity that supports a hospital in a remote part of Uganda. Just before lockdown he had been working on helping the local community address the problem of domestic abuse, but like so many things it has been on hold for the last few months. Mr. Smith is hoping to go back to Uganda soon to inject more impetus into the work.

Good luck Mr. Smith 😊

So long, farewell, auf wiedersehen, au revoir...

Ms. Fallows

Ms. Fallows has spent the last four years at Kendrick, but the time has come for her to hop in her boat and move on! She has been preparing the Magdalena (the barge she lives on) to cross the Channel very soon. Then she will head down the Seine through Paris to Fontainebleau, where Ms. Fallows has a new job lined up, teaching English in the international section of a Lycée. We wish you lots of luck with your new adventure – have fun Ms. Fallows! 😊

A spot of 'poetry'!

The End of the Year by Anon.

We really can't believe it,
Summer holidays are finally near.
Our lessons are done and dusted,
The end of the academic year is here.

Even though this year was very different,
With schools closed due to Covid-19.
You all continued to work at home,
And still produce great work and remain keen.

We want to say how proud we are,
Of each and every one of you,
For continuing to do your very best,
Even though the road to get there was new.

Our time together as a school,
Was not as long as we had thought.
But you kept our community going,
With the wonderful things you brought.

So to all of the students here at Kendrick,
We hope you have the best summer yet.
As the warm weeks go on forever,
Those months of 2020, won't be forgotten...we bet!

A message from our Student Leader, Angelica, on behalf of the students at Kendrick

It goes without saying that teaching is one of the most important and impactful professions in today's society. It can unfortunately be easy to fall into the habit of overlooking the hard work and dedication teachers put in every single day to provide students with the tools needed to thrive in the future. Therefore, on behalf of the students, I would like to say a huge thank you to the staff at Kendrick and express how appreciative we are of everything they have done for us. In these unprecedented circumstances, the teachers have unfailingly supported us in our education and learning which we are all sincerely grateful for. The creativity and innovation of lessons during this difficult time certainly do not go unnoticed and there is less apprehensiveness and insecurity amongst students due to the care and support the teachers have provided. We acknowledge the challenges and difficulties the staff have faced and strongly admire the ways they have overcome them. We are proud to be taught by such committed and encouraging individuals. The teachers truly embody the Kendrick vision to lead, inspire and make a difference.

So here's to you, teachers, for all the amazing work you have done. Thank you very much and have a wonderful summer (you certainly deserve it)!

Farewell until September...

Mrs. Williamson, Boe, Mrs. Cavaciuti and Hugo all wish you all a relaxing and enjoyable summer.

Happy reading 😊
